My passion...

“I’m passionate about providing care for oral cancer patients. It’s an honor to be part of a talented multidisciplinary team treating those facing an oncology diagnosis. We work together to provide comprehensive care before, during and after their treatment. Helping people through their darkest days is what motivates me.”

Letters from our Patients

I received the worst call a parent can get. My daughter Lindsey had been in a horrible motor vehicle accident. It was not good. She was considered in grave condition, she had a TBI, multiple fractures, lacerated spleen, and was in a coma. From the minute our family entered Trauma ICU, Rose Ferrucci-Jarvis took us under her wing as if we’d known her all our lives. She was so kind and generous. She made sure we ate, we slept, and we took care of ourselves as well as our daughter. I wouldn’t leave my daughter’s side and Rose made sure I had food, updates and even made sure I was safe at all times. The day Rose entered ECMC you all received an angel. She was our guardian angel. I’m so blessed to have met her and so blessed she was by our sides through all this. She needs to be commended. Without her I don’t know how I’d have stayed so strong for our daughter and go through all this.

Please let Rose know we said we appreciate her with all our hearts and she’ll forever be in our hearts. God bless her and you are all blessed to have her.

Brenda, Mother of Lindsey and Family
P.S. Your trauma ICU staff and nurses all are wonderful. God bless them all.
